HIRAM SMITH'S
Ophthalmic Panacea!
IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.
IT CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c. as the town sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proof is full and convincing of its INFALLIBILITY that the WARRANT IS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.
It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

DATES TO MARCH 9.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—In the House, the resignation of Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, was received.

Rev. Dr. Butler, of Washington, was elected Chaplain.

A resolution was adopted, appointing a committee to inquire into the validity of the Louisiana election

To day Schenck introduced a bill to reduce into one act all laws which relate to the Internal Revenue. Ordered printed

Kelly introduced a bill for the coinage of nickle five cent pieces.

Resolutions were adopted for the appointment of a Select Committee to provide for taking the census; for a Select Joint Committee on Retrenchment, that the Pacific Railroad Committee shall hereafter consist of fourteen members, and for the appointment of a Select Committee on Reconstruction.

Butler introduced a bill to repeal the tenure-of-office law, and moved the previous question, which was seconded and the bill passed, there being only 16 negative votes.

The House then adjourned to Friday.

In the Senate, the Finance Committee reported a bill to strengthen the public credit. Williams said he would call it up to-morrow.

Sherman reported a bill supplementary to the national currency act. He said he would call it up to-morrow.

A motion to discharge the committee from the further consideration of the tenure-of-office act, with the view to take it up to-day, was made. Sumner objected and it was laid over.

The President sent in a message, withdrawing his request for legislation relieving the Secretary of the Treasury from disabilities. The request to withdraw was granted.

The bill passed to prevent the extermination of fur-bearing animals in Alaska.

The Senate adjourned.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The President has issued an order to General Sherman to assume command of the armies.

A great crowd was present at the Presidential reception this morning. Also large numbers were at the Senate, mostly office seekers.

A Cabinet meeting was held to day. Little was done.

Secretary Bowie qualified to day.

Secretary Cox has arrived and will probably qualify to-morrow.

Delano will enter upon the duties of Commissioner of Internal Revenue to-morrow Many important changes in the officers connected with the Internal Revenue bureau are expected to-morrow.

General Sherman has issued his orders on assuming command of the Army. His general staff is as follows Townsend, Adjutant General; Marcy, Inspector General; Meigs, Quartermaster General; Eaton, Commissary General; Barnes, Surgeon General; Brice, Paymaster General, Holt, Judge Advocate General, Humphrey, Chief of Engineers; Dyer, Chief of Ordnance, and Myer, Chief Signal Officer.

Stewart has declined the appointment of Secretary of the Treasury and the President has accepted his declination.

Among the bills introduced into the Senate to-day, was one by Morton to grant the right of way to the Memphis and Elpaso Pacific Railroad and one by Wilson to relinquish the interest of the United States in certain lands in the city and county of San Francisco.

This forenoon Stewart prepared and executed a transfer of his entire interest in the profits and business of A. T. Stewart & Co., during his official term, to be applied to charitable purposes. The transfer is to W. B. Astor, Jas. Brown, Wm E. Dodge, James L. Roosevelt and Henry Hilton. This has met the general approval of many leading Senators and members, but it is not satisfactory to others who insisted that Stewart could not qualify short of the absolute sale and disposition of all property connected with his business. Having maturely considered the matter it was thought that it would be loss embarrassing to the President for Stewart to formally decline the Secretaryship.

The interview between Stewart and Grant was long and marked with the utmost cordiality. Stewart in his letter of withdrawal expresses his high appreciation of the high honor conferred on him and says could the difficulties presented be overcome by any reasonable personal sacrifice he would willingly make it and thus unite his efforts with the President and other members of the Cabinet in restoring economy, honesty and strict frugality in the administration of the government, and lift as rapidly as possible from the great burdens that taxation, debt and extravagance are thrusting upon them; but the business relations with his firm cannot be summarily severed, nor can his interest be wholly or absolutely disposed of without prejudice, great embarrassment and loss to those connected with him. Therefore he yields to the better judgments of others and finally renews his declination of the position offered. It is said at the lowest estimate six millions would have been realized to the charities of New York by the means Stewart proposed, within four years.

David G. Goodwin yesterday resigned the office of Marshal of the District of Columbia

Brevet Major General Adalert Ames has been assigned to the command of the 4th Military District according to his brevet rank.

A. T. Smith, of Mt. Vernon, is appointed Solicitor of Internal Revenue, vice Bickley removed

New York News.

ROCHESTER, March 9.—Van Riper's flouring mill was partly destroyed by the explosion of a boiler, yesterday, and three men killed.

BUFFALO, March 9.—The difficulty between the Northwestern, Central and Erie railroads has been adjusted. The cars of the former company will make regular trips over the Erie line.

A New Secret Society

RICHMOND, March 9.—The Supreme Lodge of the Knights of Hythian met in annual session at Covenant Hall to-day. Eight States were represented. Reports were received from California, Nebraska and Louisiana. The membership is fifty thousand, with two hundred and fifty lodges and eight Grand Lodges.

Democratic Practices Imitated by Republicans.

PETERSBURG, March 9.—The Republican State Convention met at noon to-day in Tucker's Hall. An anti Wells man attempted to be declared temporary Chairman, which the Wells men resisted, and a general row ensued around the Chairman's stand. A strong police force interfered and separated the combatants. The Mayor of the city appeared and made a speech in behalf of peace. The rival candidates for the temporary Chairmanship followed the Mayor, advocating peace. Another fight ensued, when the Mayor ordered the police to clear the Hall, which was done and the delegates are now scattered about the streets. It is not known whether they will meet again.

A Prodigal Returned.

LOUISVILLE, March 9.—John C. Breckinridge after an exile of eight years, reached his home in Lexington yesterday. He will immediately resume the practice of law and carefully eschew politics.

Railroad Commissioner Appointed

SPRINGFIELD, March 9.—David L. Harris, President of the Connecticut River Railroad has been appointed a Government Commissioner to the Union Pacific Railroad.

Republican Triumph in New Hampshire

CONCORD, March 9.—Returns from the State election show a smaller vote than in November, but indicate an increased Republican majority over last March when Harriman was elected by about 2,000. Stearns is probably elected Governor by 3,000 majority, with a full Republican delegation to Congress. There is a large Republican majority in the State Legislature.

Miscellaneous

NEW YORK, March 9.—The case of Danforth N. Barney against William H. Mills and others to recover $100,000 for damages sustained by plaintiff as President of Wells, Fargo & Co's Express Company by the explosion of a box of nitro glycerine at San Francisco some years ago, was commenced to-day before Judge Barnard.

SACO, Me., March 9.—Moses Lowell, Republican, is elected Mayor by 300 majority.

Salt Lake

"Carleton" Among the Mormons.

Correspondence of the Boston Journal.

In the Great Temple is the institution which has long been exciting curiosity. The most [illegible] Turk the Arab Hadjee Pasha and the King of Ashantee all bow in the footsteps of their fathers. They keep concubines by the score. The harem never has flourished under the Christian civilization of Europe, but it has been transplanted from the desert to Salt Lake City by the Prophet and Apostles of the Church of the Latter Day Saints, and is thriving with great vigor. In the city of the Sultan and everywhere else in the East it is established in fact, but in the saintly city of Utah it is held to be ordained of God for the welfare of the human race and the glory of God through time and eternity.

THE APOSTLES AND THEIR CONCUBINES.

The Prophet, in imitation of the Lord Jesus Christ, has ordained twelve Apostles to assist him in his ministry. In this Church of the Latter Day Saints he who will be greatest in the kingdom of Heaven is he who has the most concubines in this life. The Apostles, therefore, imitating their Prophet, add to the number of their concubines as they feel able, that their glory may be great in the eternal world. Do you ask whether the idea uppermost in the mind of the Oriental—the gratification of passion—may not also be an inducement with an Apostle to take a concubine—a half dozen? Those sober-minded men of Salt Lake will assure you that they seek only to do the will of God. Each added concubine will be a jewel in the immortal crown, and over each new born child there is joy in heaven, for it is a soul released from its prison house and started on its way to glory.

All of the Apostles are married, and all have two or more concubines in addition to their one lawful wife. They rank as follows

First Apostle, Orson Hyde, has three concubines.

Second Apostle, Orson Pratt, has three concubines

Third Apostle, John Taylor, has six concubines.

Fourth Apostle, Wilford Woodruff, has two concubines

Fifth Apostle, G. A. Smith, has four concubines.

Sixth Apostle, Amasa Lyman, has four concubines

Seventh Apostle, Ezra Benson, has three concubines.

Eighth Apostle, Charles Rich, has six concubines

Ninth Apostle, Lorenzo Snow, has three concubines

Tenth Apostle, Erastus Snow, has two concubines.

Eleventh Apostle, Franklin Richards, has three concubines.

Twelfth Apostle, G. Q. Cannon, has two concubines

Daniel Wells, who is associated with Brigham in the Presidency of the Church, has a large number of concubines. Heber Kimball, who was also a member of the Presidency, but who died last Summer, had a large harem. He was not much liked by the Saints—was coarse, brutal and used obscene language in the pulpit, abused his concubines, worked them hard, gave them little to eat, pulled their hair, and gave them to understand he was master of the situation. I am informed that some of them are not inconsolable now that he is gone, and they hope for a period of rest before joining him in glory. It is not stated as a fact, but only as a current report.

THE PROPHET'S HAREM.

A few steps up Main street from our hotel, a turn to the right and we see the prophet's harem. The grounds occupied by Brigham are inclosed by a high wall, laid in cement. An eagle with spreading wings, clutching a bee-hive in his talons, is mounted over the gateway—emblematic of Brigham and the church. The grounds are well laid out, and there is an abundance of apple, pear and peach trees. Grape vines climb the walls and hang on trellises.

At the southwest corner of the grounds is the tithing office where a tenth part of all that is produced in the country passes into Brigham's hands. In the rear of the tithing office are extensive sheds, where saints find shelter while paying their tithing. Here also are several small buildings where Brigham's servants live—those employed about the premises.

A few steps east of the tithing office is a three-storied building, standing end to the road, large enough and long enough for a factory boarding house. It has a steep, shingled roof, with ten gabled windows on each side. On the balcony over the door is a crouching lion.

This is the harem. A covered passage leads from the ground floor to another building east, in which is the general business office of Brigham Young, and from which telegraph wires run to every hamlet in the Territory. Another passage leads to the private office of Brigham—back of which is his private bed-room, where his concubines wait upon him—Amelia to-day, Emeline to-morrow, Lucy the day after.

Brigham's lawfully wedded wife was Mary Ann Angell, a native of New York, the mother of five children, Joseph, or "Joe," as he is called at Salt Lake, Brigham A., John, Alice and Luna. She married the prophet while he was a young man, before he was a prophet, and with him accepted the revelations of Joseph Smith. She lives in a large stone building at the rear of the harem. Brigham does not often visit her now

BRIGHAM'S CONCUBINES.

The number of concubines in the harem is not known to the Gentile world. One report makes the number seventy, another gives only thirty. It is probable that the larger number includes those who are sealed to Brigham for eternity and not for time

His first concubine is Lucy Decker. She is the lawful wife of Isaac Seely, mother of two children but Brigham could make her a Queen in heaven, and so, bidding good bye to Isaac, she became first concubine, and has added eight children to the Prophet's household

Her younger sister, Clara Decker, also aspires to be a heavenly Queen, and became his second concubine, and is the mother of four children.

The third is Harriet Cook, mother of one turbulent boy, who does pretty much as he pleases, and so does the mother. When in her tantrums she does not hesitate to send Brigham to the realms of evil spirits.

Lucy Bigelow is said to be one of the most ladylike of all the concubines. Mrs. Waite, wife of one of the United States Judges of the Territory, who saw all the ladies of the harem, describes her as of middling stature, dark hair, blue eyes, aquiline nose and a pretty mouth. She is pleasant and affable

Miss Twiss has sandy hair, round features, blue eyes, low forehead, freckled face, but as she has children, is not much accounted in the eyes of the prophet. She looks after his clothes sews buttons on the shirts and acts the part of a housewife

Martha Baker is another of the same sort, quiet, neat in dress, motherless, and therefore of little account

Harriet Barney, like Lucy Decker, left her husband and three children to become a concubine that she might have exaltation in Heaven. But she is not beloved in the harem, not having added any children to the household

Eliza Burgess is the only English woman in the harem, small of stature, black eyes, quick tempered, but mother of several children

Emeline Lawson, daughter of Abraham Lawson, an elder of the unfortunate Willie band, has had [illegible] children.

Mrs. Hampton, whose first husband, died at Nauvoo, afterwards married a man by the name of [illegible] who left her at Nauvoo and went to [illegible] Brigham hearing of his departure, sent for the wife, who joined the saints and became a concubine in the harem eight years, until they were sealed by Brigham. She now lives in Ogden City with her son Nephi Hampton

Mary Bigelow is another castaway. She lived in the harem several years but Brigham became tired of her and sent her away.

Margaret Pierce is another who, not having added to the glory of the prophet by being a mother herself, is also accounted worthless in the harem

Emeline Free, as described by Mrs. Waite, is the "flight of the harem," tall, graceful, mild, violet eyes, fair hair inclined to curl. She was a lively young lady and Brigham fell in love with her. Her father and mother were opposed to polygamy, but Emeline had ambitious projects, accepted his proposal and became the favorite of the harem. The favor shown her brought on a row. The other concubines carried this jealousy to such a pitch that the prophet had a private passage constructed from his bed room to Emeline's room so that his visits to her and her's to him could be made without observation. She has contributed greatly to his glory in the future world by presenting him with eight children in this.

The poetess of the church is Eliza Snow, said to be quite intellectual. In one of her poems, published in Brigham's paper, the Deseret News, she thus exalts the Mormon religion

"We have the ancient order,
To us by prophets given
And here we have the pattern
As things exist in heaven."

From which we are to understand that there are harems in heaven. So the Turk believes.

Zina Huntington also writes poetry and acts as a sort of governess to the numerous children of the prophet. Zina came to Salt Lake with her lawfully wedded husband, Dr. Jacobs. Brigham liked her, sent the doctor on a missionary tour to England, took his wife into the harem and became the spiritual father of her children—made her his temporal concubine that he might also exalt her to be a queen in heaven! The doctor returned from his mission, apostatized and went to California, where he now resides.

Amelia Hartridge has added four children to the prophet's household. She is said to be of a sweet disposition, and is not jealous when the prophet turns his attention to the other concubines.

Mrs. Augusta Cobb was formerly a Bostonian, became converted to Mormonism eighteen years ago, left her home and accepted a position in the harem.

Mrs. Smith, a devout Mormon, wished to be sealed to Brigham for eternity, but the prophet did not care to make her his heavenly queen. He sealed her to Joseph Smith for eternity and to himself for time.

One "poor unfortunate," Clara Chase, became a maniac and has gone to where the wicked cease from troubling.

Amelia Folsom, a native of Portsmouth (N. H.), is the mistress of the harem. She entered it on the 29th of January, 1865. She is about 19, and the Prophet 65. She has things pretty much her own way—private box in the theater, carriage of her own, silks, satins, a piano, parlor elegantly furnished. If the Prophet slights her, she pays him

Poor Boy.

W A WIDOW SOOTHED HIS DISAPPOINTMENT

The Utica (N. Y.) Observer relates the following

A young fellow, whose name it would be a ty to disclose, struck a vein of bad luck the her day. He loved a maiden fair. The aiden suffered his attentions and after a te- ous courtship jilted him. The young man d but one female confidant in the world o was a young widow who lived next door the young widow the young man went for nsolation and advice. He found both. As nsolation the widow told him the girl that d "thrown him," was unworthy of his ve, and as advice she advised him to marry mebody else, and thus be revenged on the ter. The young man was wretched enough d "tight" enough to do anything desperate, But who shall I marry?" This was an opportunity to secure a husband which the oung widow couldn't afford to lose. Without more ado she offered herself. "A bargain it is," said the young man. Together hey went before a Justice of the Peace, and aus began a matrimonial career that has occasioned more talk and more fun than any edding we remember to have heard of lately. esterday the Recorder listened to the complaint of the young widow, now Mrs. S. he alleges that her husband refuses to support her. They have been married only a w days, but he insists that the widow is a raud. He declares she enticed him into the arriage; that she took advantage of his inoxicated condition to make a husband out of im. He vows he wasn't conscious of the eality of the marriage business until he woke p sobered the next morning and found that f he was not married to the widow he ought o be. He wanted to know what she had been doing in the meantime to bring about uch a novel relationship. Blushingly (?) he widow informed the boy that he had married her. We don't know whether this lady ad any trouble with her first husband, but ve do know that husband No. 2 was a pretty erious responsibility. "Married you! When did I marry you? What did I marry you for?" Indignation overcame the youthful oom. Swearing that he would never see he bride again, he left the house. The bride her head is level) wasted no time in tears. She knew that the Recorder could do more for her than any one else in this emergency, and o the Recorder she applied. His Honor issued a requisition, and the irate young man was arraigned. He was particular to state that he would not provide for the woman, and to allow him time for reflection the Recorder sent him to jail. The boy thinks that of the two evils he has chosen the least. A month or so in jail may tend to better reconcile him to his situation. Poor boy.

Fifth Avenue Children.

When or how they can study or grow, is a mystery. Masquerades and parties are as frequent with them as their elders, their hours nearly as late, their toilets as elaborate. Their food consists of French dishes, chocolate and rich confectionery, and they talk about the "boquet" of their favorite wines with the gravity of experienced connoisseurs. There are no longer any such nice things as the "[illegible] party," with simple games and amusements—their custard and sponge cakes for refreshments, their pretty dresses of red merino or, at most, white muslin, and their sensible hours, which allowed the little ones to be at home and in bed at the usual hour. Instead of this we have full-dress entertainments, the fac simile of those given for older persons. The folly is, if anything, carried to a still greater extent. The dresses are costly, and complete down to the smallest detail. The tulle or lace are looped at the side with [illegible] over silk or satin; tiny lockets with monograms, diamond earrings, miniature boquet-holders, lace handkerchief, the quaintest of little Duchesse kid gloves and the daintiest of white [illegible] boots over white silk stockings got up in such a style as this, of course the little creatures can think of little else besides their clothes, and their enjoyment is restricted to dancing, the Lancers, the Redowa or the Co[illegible] with some small gentleman gorgeously arrayed also; and the supper would be comme il faut frightfully mean if it did not include plenty of creams and ices, chocolate, [illegible] meringues, glaces, confections, [illegible] and champagne. For a children's party given recently, the strawberries and wine alone cost $500. Not unfrequently at two or three o'clock in the morning and of course are unfit for study for several days [illegible]. There are children who went to over a [illegible] balls during the past Winter, and for each one a different dress was provided, which took days in preparation. These balls have already exhausted life. Oh, for the old pinafore and bread-and-butter days [illegible] children and not [illegible] women. It would be quite a work of mercy for some philanthropist to [illegible] these little victims of [illegible] them among the [illegible] of New England and [illegible], as if they were the outcasts [illegible] of our [illegible]. One [illegible] on the other.

The [illegible] date says: The [illegible] in the [illegible] course at the [illegible] was delivered by Samuel [illegible] on the "Early Policy [illegible] of the Indians with [illegible] King of the [illegible] in this country since the landing of the Pilgrims, the lecturer went on to [illegible] the difficulties which our fathers experienced in dealing with the red man. Their embarrassments, he said, were greater from this source than from any other, and were made more severe by the cruel treatment the Indians had received from some independent settlers who had come to these shores. The members of the Plymouth and Massachusetts colonies were at first ignorant of the resources and powers of the Indians, and lived in constant fear of them; but as time passed the Englishmen discovered their own superiority, and a feeling which was that of contempt gradually arose. This feeling was a thousand times harder to overcome in establishing pacific relations than that of anxiety and alarm. It was hard to find a system by which the Indians could be [illegible] dealt with, and when the right principles were found it was still harder to apply them. An attempt was made to convert them, and although some progress was made, and 4,000 converts were made just before King Philip's war, but a small portion of the several tribes were brought within the Christian fold. One reason for this was found in the fact that the Indian character was unfit for Christianity, except after undergoing long influences in favor of both. Another reason was that the settler was absorbed in the multitudinous embarrassments of his situation, and could not devote himself to missionary work. The apostle Eliot was eloquently eulogized by the lecturer from his active and efficient labors among the red men.

STOW FOUNDATION PAVEMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, January 18, 1869

Hon. Frank McCoppin, Mayor of San Francisco—Dear Sir: You have now been connected with our City Government as Supervisor and Mayor for the past nine years, during which time you must have given a great deal of attention to Street Paving, and I now ask it as a special favor to me, that you give briefly in writing, the result of your convictions relative to the several styles of street paving now in use in this city. By so doing you will much oblige

Yours obedient servant,
H. F. WILLIAMS,
President Stow Foundation Pavement Co.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 20th, 1869

Henry F. Williams, Esq., President of the S. F. P. Co.—Dear Sir: Your communication of yesterday requesting me to give in writing my opinion relative to the several kinds of street pavement now in use in this city, is before me, and in reply I would say, that at the time I became a municipal officer of this city, in 1861, and for many years thereafter cobble-stone was the only kind of pavement used by the city in its corporate, and by individuals in their individual capacity. About five years ago the Nicolson pavement was introduced here by Mr. J. J. Robbins, assignee of the owner of the patent, and was received with much favor by our citizens. Very many portions of our streets are now paved with the Nicolson Pavement, so called—still later—that is to say, about two years ago, the "Stow Foundation Pavement" was introduced here by the inventor, and many of our public streets have since been paved with that pavement.

A sufficient length of time has I think elapsed to enable any person who has given the subject any attention, to form an intelligent opinion as to the merits of the respective wooden pavements—of course, I leave the cobble-stones out of view entirely—and I have come to the conclusion, that, in many respects, such as adaptability to our wants and in durability, the Stow is the superior pavement. But, were the two pavements equal in every other respect, the facility with which the Stow can be taken up and relaid, whenever it becomes necessary to displace it for the purpose of laying down gas and water pipes, should, in my judgment, entitle it to preference and public favor.

Very respectfully, Your obedient servant,
FRANK McCOPPIN,
Mayor of the City of San Francisco.

We, the undersigned, have carefully read the above letter from his Honor, Frank McCoppin, to H. F. Williams, Esq., upon the subject of street paving, and we fully indorse every word it contains:

Resolution instructing City surveyor to estimate the cost of improvement of certain streets, adopted.

ELECTION OF STREET COMMISSIONER.

The Council then proceeded to ballot for Street Commissioner, Mr. McMillan, elected at the last meeting having failed to qualify.

The Council proceeded to go at this work with a determination to "fight it out if it took all summer." The following named persons were voted for: Jos. Sloan, Jacob Shartle, Chas. Stewart, John Whittle, Henry Whittle, H. W. Davis, Jeff. Cherry, C. H. Myers, A. Meier, Lamp-post Myers, Rev. A. Myers, I. Myers, E. A. Pollard, [illegible] Johnson, Billy McCrillon, Old Robinson, H. Merrill, Pat Clarke, Andrew Jackson Kin[illegible], J. R. McBride, R. W. [illegible], [illegible] Cellu, Shattuck & C[illegible], [illegible] Smith, Green B. Higgins, Peter Kyl[illegible], Rod. Fo[illegible], Alice Gray, Jim Murphy and Ada M[illegible].

The vote for the [illegible] fell from one to two, Jos. A Sloan and Jacob Meier at different times, being the latter number. No other person more than two votes on any ballot. At the 69th, 70th and 100th ballot a motion was made to adjourn and lost. At the 170th ballot, O'Neil an Brock withdrew, leaving six members present. At the 182d ballot Councilman Hallock arose and said that the office of Street Commissioner was one of the most important in the city government, and that the damage resulting to the city by reason of that office being vacant, should be laid to those who had defeated the election of a person to the place. (He forgot to State that the majority had voted against Mr. Shartle as often as the minority had voted against Mr. Sloan. We thought the thing was pretty nearly balanced.—REP.) At the conclusion of his speech, Councilman Hallock moved to adjourn, carried, and the Council adjourned at ten minutes to midnight.

RETURNS OF THE SCHOOL FUNDS.—Twenty-five [illegible] ted, and from the returns I find there [illegible] county 2,807 children between the ages [illegible] years. All of the several districts who have not already called for their full proportion will find orders for them at the Treasurer, at the post office. I hope they will draw the money immediately, so that the account with the districts for the current year may be balanced.

J. R. WILEY,
County School Superintendent.

THE COMMON SCHOOL.—The Commercial man is down on the Common school of this city, because a horde of juvenile [illegible] are in the habit of assaulting the colored children. The following is the original, manly and magnanimous manner in which the Commercial genius proves the school a "nuisance": "About noon on each day, a crowd of young vandals congregate at the house; and no sooner is school dismissed than they "set on" the colored children, and a regular pitch battle generally ensues, in which missiles, stones and clubs are thrown to and fro in a very indiscriminate manner. No instances have occurred as yet in which personal injuries have been inflicted by the belligerents; but we learn that a number of window lights have been sacrificed by this kind of questionable sport. As redress on the part of the aggrieved is [illegible]ble, these annoyances have grown to be intolerable. We do not criminate one side more than another, but the school, as kept at present, is not many removes from a nuisance, and if the influence of the teachers fail to put a stop to them, these proceedings should be abated by police intervention." If the Commercial man means what he says, we do not criminate one side more than the other—we do not remember anything he ever said more unjust and open to the criticism of fair minded persons. That the school is "not many removes from a nuisance" because the children are assaulted and pelted with "missiles, stones and clubs," is certainly a strange [illegible], and for the utterance of which the Commercial should be heartily ashamed. If the fights consequent upon the attacks of the roughs upon the colored children are disagreeable to the people in that neighborhood, why don't they take measures to make the young rascals desist and behave themselves? We do not believe the colored children will hunt for the roughs, to get a fight. We must candidly say that it is an exhibition of mean prejudice to lay the blame for riotous proceedings of this kind equally upon both parties, where it is so clear that it belongs to the white roughs.

The Captain reports fair weather.

THE [illegible].—Gov. Woods arrived at this city last evening, from [illegible]. He will remain with us to-day and probably return home to-morrow.

WALLA WALLA NEWS.—We learn from the Walla Walla Statesman that the Republican County Convention will be held on the 10th day of April and the Democratic County Convention on the 27th of March. A grand ball will be given at the Bank Exchange Hall, on St. Patrick's day, March 17th for the benefit of the School fund.

Sheriff McAuliff is elected and paid over for the month of February the sum of $1,077, on account delinquent taxes. His total collections for the three months he has been in office is up to $3,258 41. Messrs. Clark & Whitcher advertise an express for Kootenai and the Peru diggings. It will leave Walla Walla every Monday morning. The gentlemen who own this express are the owners of the Montana mules. The White Pine fever has not yet reached Walla Walla, and already we hear of the departure of our substantial citizens who are to seek their fortunes in El Dorado. The excitement has been mainly occasioned by private letters received from parties who left here several weeks since for White Pine, and now we think it falls to flowing all previous reports as to the marvelous richness of the new mining district. We are glad to see the [illegible] of Mr. Lyn[illegible] and able to [illegible] on crutches. It will be remembered that accidents at the time of Mr. Lyn[illegible] were [illegible] and entertained hopes which at the time [illegible] would render necessary the amputation of both legs. It is [illegible] that Mr. L was unwilling to [illegible] he has the use of both legs, and in a few weeks will be as well as ever.

THE FIRST APPLES SHIPPED.—The Colonist publishes the following [illegible] of the first apples grown in the country. Between the years 1824 and 1827 a Captain Simpson had been appointed to the command of one of these vessels and was sitting down to his last dinner at home, in [illegible]. Of course the conversation turned on the pilgrimage to the far Western wilds. When the dessert was brought on, and all were engaged in eating apples, one of the ladies suggested to the departing Captain that he put the seeds of their apples in his pocket and plant them on the arrival in the new world. The seeds were accordingly thrown lovingly into a pocket, probably more in fact than any expectation of benefit to be derived. But when Simpson arrived at Fort Vancouver the same acts as the seeds which were given to a gardener named Bruce, with instructions to plant them. After several years of careful culture, the early inhabitants had the satisfaction of seeing a few apples grow. When fully matured this first fruit was quartered and divided that all might have a taste. Thus the first seedling apple-tree of civilized and many were scattered over all the surrounding country. The first grafted fruit that was brought to the State, Mr. Luelling, who lives near Milwaukie, introduced.

BRIEF MENTION.—The city has been unusually quiet for the last two or three weeks, in point of rows and police court cases. Arrests were rare, and the chain gang is non est.....The city was yesterday full of railroad rumors, all the more exaggerated and wild because the railroad magnates and managers are keeping their own counsel. There seems to be something to be let out of the news bag, but as yet the strings are in a "hard knot."....In our walks about town, we observe that many new buildings are being put up for residences in the more retired parts of the city.....Steamboat navigation on the Upper Columbia is still impracticable.

MANIFEST OF THE "HELEN ANGIER."—The following is the list of consignees and number of packages to each per bark Helen Angier, Staples, master, which arrived last evening: E. J. Northrup & Co., 12 pkgs, H B & Co, 81, H & S G T C 7, M S, I, E I & Co, 9, G B, 46; F, 18, T diamond C, Salem, 26, H, 536; T diamond C, 20, H D, 80, Benton 250, J C & Co, 16, S & W, Salem, 91; S Sherlock, 1; Allen & Lewis, 1,236; McCraken, Merrill & Co, 452; E & F, 8; Rhonds & Co, 1; S in triangle P 402; O Eckles, 24; C Drummond W P, 7. Knapp, Burrell & Co, 7. E L & Co, 5.

PROBABLY A MISTAKE.—The Herald yesterday morning reported the bark Osmyn sold to Capt. B. F. Smith. We learn that Capt. Smith stated yesterday that the item was erroneous. The truth is that the owners of the bark wish to sell her because she is too small for profitable freighting on long voyages, and there have been negotiations on foot which have not yet ripened into a trade. The bark is a beautiful model and is only one year old, staunch, and is just the sort of craft we should like to see in our coasting trade.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.—The argument in the case of the State of Oregon vs. Silas Connolly, indicted for the murder of Wm. R. Hill, consumed the greater part of the day yesterday. The case was submitted to the jury in the afternoon, and last evening the jury returned a verdict of "guilty of murder in the second degree." Gibbs & Parrish counsel for the State, Mulkey, Bronaugh & Bybee for the defence.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.—Messrs. Stitzel & Upton advertise this morning that they have for sale some choice lots and blocks in East Portland; also, a desirable tract of timbered land within two miles of the ferry landing at East Portland, beside other lots and tracts on both sides of the river, and a farm near Oregon City. Read their advertisement.

AGUE CURE.—Those persons who are afflicted with ague should take notice of the advertisement of Messrs. Loryea & Kallenberg, under head of "New To Day." The "South Carolina Ague Remedy" is a good medicine as we have had occasion to know.

PUTTING THEM THROUGH.—We notice in the proceedings of the Circuit Court for Marion county, mention made of the conviction and fining of several parties for selling liquor without license, selling liquor on Sunday, etc. Serves them right.

THE TUALATIN.—The stage of water in the Tualatin river is so low that navigation is becoming next to impossible.

NIGHT SCHOOL.—Mr. Fitzgerald has opened a Night School in the schoolhouse (up stairs) near the Catholic Church. For Terms—See the Teacher.

DANCING ACADEMY.—Prof. Cardinell's classes are held every week-day evening, and on Saturday afternoon for children. Hall in Poppleton's Building, First street.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to satisfy the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public, palming off, under their interior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. ### Portland Library Association.

The public library is justly regarded as a most important instrument in the cause of popular improvement and enlightenment. Our public libraries in all parts of the country are increasing in number and improving the value of their collections. They form one of the many agents which contribute to the intellectual progress of communities. They are both an index of that progress and a promoter of it; and their influence, though silent, is deep and wide-reaching.

The Portland Library Association has been in existence some years, and though it has met with some discouragements, its affairs were never in so prosperous a condition as now. Its collection of books is growing to the proportions of a very respectable library, and most of the books are of standard and permanent value. Additions are steadily making to the collection. The affairs of the Association are managed by gentlemen who take a laudable pride in performing their duty. In the new rooms to which the library has just been removed, the arrangements are remarkably tasteful and commodious. W. S. Ladd, Esq., with a generous appreciation of the importance of maintaining the library and enlarging its powers for usefulness, has presented the Association with a lease of an elegant suite of rooms over his new bank for a term of years; and these rooms have been fitted up and furnished by the Association in a style which does them credit and makes the library an ornament to the city. We take pleasure in chronicling the progress of an institution of such usefulness and importance. This library should be generously supported by our citizens. It requires but a small sum to gain admission to its advantages, and every one who helps it with his patronage not only expends his money profitably for himself, but aids the Association in obtaining means to enrich its collection and to keep the progress of the library at even pace with the wants and growth of the city.

The Old National Debt, Again.

To prove that a portion of the nominal domestic debt was repudiated we produced section 3d of the Funding Bill, which expressly stated that certificates were to be issued to all sums subscribed according to their specie value instead of at their face.—Herald.

To prove that no portion of the nominal domestic debt (the debt created by the Revolution) was repudiated, we produce from the — we third se — on the words, "Be it therefore enacted, That a loan to the full amount of the said domestic debt be, and the same is hereby proposed."

To prove further that no part of the debt was repudiated, we produce from the ninth section of the same act the declaration, "That nothing in this act contained shall be construed in any wise to alter, abridge or impair the rights of those creditors of the United States, who shall not subscribe to the said (new) loan, or the contracts upon which their respective claims are founded."

To prove further, and beyond all controversy, that no part of the debt was repudiated, we point to the fact that the debt after it was funded under the act was just the same in amount as before it was funded.

To prove that Hamilton did not favor a repudiation of any part of the debt, or any other part of it, as asserted by the Herald, we quote from his report: "The fundamental principles of good faith dictate that every practicable exertion ought to be made scrupulously to fulfill the engagements of the government. No change in the rights of its creditors ought to be attempted without their voluntary consent, and this consent ought to be voluntary in fact, as well as in name. Consequently, every proposal of a change ought to be in the shape of an appeal to their interest, not to their necessities." Hence his proposal was to offer the creditors a better security for the principal and interest of their claims as an equivalent for the postponement of the interest for a short period on a part of them. The adjustment which he proposed and which was substantially adopted, was to rest on the "voluntary consent of the creditors." Madison explained the views of Congress on the subject when he declared that "no logic could disprove the obligation of the United States to pay the whole amount, principal and interest, promised on the face of their certificates."

This whole discussion is now reduced to a very narrow basis. The Herald rests its assertion that one-third of the old national debt debt was repudiated entirely on the assumption that "certificates were to be issued to all sums subscribed (to the new loan) according to their specie value, instead of at their face." The words "according to their specie value" are used in the act; but the words "instead of at their face" are interpolated by the Herald:

The words "specie value" in this act did not signify that the old certificates were to be paid in at the market value, in coin, which they then bore; for they were depreciated to one fifth of their nominal value, and at this rate, the debt after it was funded, would have been reduced almost to nothing. Whereas in fact, as we have repeatedly shown, its nominal amount was not reduced at all by the funding act, that amount being the same after it was funded as before. The act, itself, in another place explains the words "according to specie value." In the tenth section, after providing that non-subscribing creditors should be paid their interest "equal to the interest payable to subscribing creditors," it proceeds:

But as some of the certificates now in circulation have not heretofore been liquidated to specie value, as most of them are greatly subject to counterfeit, and counterfeits have actually taken place in numerous instances, and as embarrassment and imposition might, for these reasons, attend the payment of interest on those certificates in their present form, it shall therefore be necessary to entitle the said creditors to the benefit of said payment, that those of them who do not possess certificates issued by the register of the treasury for the registered debt, should produce, previous to the first day of June next, their respective certificates at the treasury, to the end that the same may be cancelled and other certificates issued in lieu thereof; which said certificates shall specify the specie amount of those in exchange for which they are given, and shall otherwise be of the like tenor with those heretofore issued by the register of the treasury for the registered debt.

By the phrase, "liquidating the debt to its specie value" was therefore meant the process of ascertaining what amount of certificates, promising specie payment, had actually been issued; the rejection of such as were counterfeit, and the registration of such as were genuine, with their date and amount. Prior to this time there had been no accurate registry of the debt. The "specie value" of the debt, as the phrase stood, therefore signified its nominal value, after it had been adjusted in this manner; and the Herald ignorantly confounds this with the market value in coin, which the certificates bore at the time. This explanation destroys the last remaining argument on which that paper relies to prove that a portion of the old debt was repudiated.

We may mention here as a final and conclusive argument, that the Constitution of the United States expressly prohibited the repudiation of any portion of the debt. The first clause of the article six of that instrument reads: "All debts contracted and engagements entered into, before the adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the Confederation. The United States, under the Confederation, being bound for the debt, could not repudiate any part of it under the Constitution and Madison in his argument on the funding system cited this fact to show that the Government was bound "for the whole amount promised on the face of the certificates."

Our only reason for discussing this subject at such length has been that, as an attempt was made to find a precedent in the action of the first Congress for the repudiation of the present national debt, we thought it good policy to explode the pretension. The Herald will scarcely follow the New York World another time into so deep a ditch as that into which its trusting confidence in this case has led it.

A Chance for Sympathy.

Referring to the action of Spain in dealing with Cuba, the Sacramento Bee pointedly asks: "Where is civilized Europe? Where is that Europe that could not stand by and behold the United States casting rocks into one of her own roadways without uttering a protest in the name of humanity against this act of so-styled vandalism? We have now a fit subject for her tender sensibilities—and that subject is a sovereign power of Europe itself! Spain has (if the news by telegraph may be believed,) raised the black flag upon the Island of Cuba, and almost within sight of British, French and Danish possessions! The troops of the home Government have been instructed to take no prisoners, but to shoot all the enemies that fall into their hands—just as that little Creole, Beauregard, advised the Confederates to do. Shall enlightened Europe permit this rankest barbarism without a protest? Shall wholesale murder like this escape the official attention of a people who lamented and wept and became greatly exercised because this nation threw a few insensate stones into Charleston harbor? Are men of less account than matter? Is there no philanthrophy left which is large enough to embrace humanity within its folds? or is it all kept for commercial purposes? What say you, Great Powers, you of the ancient holy alliance who assume to lay down the moral law that shall be obeyed by all people but your own? Speak now and save a whole people from indiscriminate slaughter, or if you do not and the Cubans shall retaliate in kind remember that the responsibility rests with you."

Small Notes.

A destructive fire occurred at Helena (Montana), on the 18th February. Six buildings were burned, causing a loss to the amount of $75,000. The Gazette newspaper was burned out, but will soon be ready to issue again.

That was a very disreputable row in the Virginia Republican Convention, reported in the dispatches to-day. It was less disreputable only because less grand than the row in and dispersal of the Democratic National Convention at Charleston in 1860.

The Idaho Statesman has changed hands again. The parties appear to have "swapped back"—at any rate J. S. Reynolds is again editor and proprietor of the paper. The Statesman is Republican again. It probably wouldn't run as a Democratic paper.

Last year the result of the election in New Hampshire was waited for with absorbing interest. Being the first State to lead off in the great political contest of that year, a tremendous effort was made by both parties in the State, which drew the attention of the whole country. The Republicans were victorious, though the contest was close. This year little interest is taken in the election, but the Republicans are victorious as usual.

A correspondent writes us from Salem to inform us that the course of the "official organ" in regard to an extra session is explainable by the fact that a person connected with the management of the said "organ" some time ago bought from the State Printer the printing of an extra session, and being very anxious to "realize," has written and printed a series of loose, slipshod and scurrilous articles to coerce the Governor. This motive on the part of the "official organ" is not at all new to us. Some months ago an attempt was made by a person connected with that shaky concern to induce the OREGONIAN to join in the cry for an extra session, the prize offered being the prospect of an interest in this same little job of State printing. The proposition was indignantly spurned, and in such terms that it was not repeated. Since then the "organ" has not liked the OREGONIAN.

The Nevada press is savage on San Francisco. The Nevada Enterprise says: "All this talk by the Bay merchants, of successfully competing with Chicago in supplying the Pacific States and Territories, on the line of the railroad, with general merchandise is bosh. They will not be able to do it, and if they had a rational conception of business beyond the sale of a bushel of peanuts, they would know better. We think it possible, however, that the most of them are unable to perceive why the people of Nevada should not continue to deal with them after the completion of the railroad—why we should not permit the goods which we require to pass our doors on their way from Chicago to San Francisco, and give the dealers of the latter place a substantial profit in their reshipment to Nevada. The "merchant princes" of the Bay are getting into deep water. They should confine their operations to the adulteration of liquors and other congenial occupations."

The Forest Grove Monthly appears to run a little behind, instead of ahead of its date, as the February number has just reached our table. The paper is unpretending in appearance, but every number contains some really good articles. We make a brief extract from the number before us. "We have met somewhere the saying that 'all literature is essentially heathenish.' It is one of those ambiguous expressions that seems to have some truth in it, but that needs the quartz crushing and amalgamating process performed upon it to determine the nature and the amount of the verity. All modern literature is imbued with the spirit of classical antiquity, and so, if the heathenish is inseparable from the classical—may be said to be heathenish. But we deny that that which is perennial and pervasive in classical literature deserves this stigma. Grace, beauty of expression, aptness of words, logical thought have no moral quality—considered as providential developments in Attica or Latium, they are blessings—considered as congenial to the human soul they are the birthright of humanity. Literature is what it is by the presence and because of the embodiment of the excellencies that we call classical."

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

DATES TO MARCH 10.

Washington Fact and Gossip.

CHICAGO, March 10. The Times' special thinks that Boutwell will be nominated for the Treasury to-day, though New Yorkers are making a strong pressure for Hamilton Fish or Griswold.

Mr. Snow, of the Intelligencer, recently removed as Commissioner of the Pacific railroads, is preparing a report denouncing the construction and operation of the road in measured terms.

The same special thinks the Senate will promptly repeal the Tenure of Office bill. It also thinks that Motley stands the best chance for the English mission.

The Tribune's special thinks that Hamilton Fish will be sent to England and Curtis to Russia.

Another great rush of office-seekers took place yesterday. All the letters and recommendations have been turned over to Gen. Babcock.

General Howard will soon be relieved of the charge of the Freedmen's Bureau. Gen. Hete, for a long time past chief officer of the Bureau in Louisiana, will succeed Howard. The latter will be placed in command of the Indian territory. Col. Parker, of Grant's staff, is almost certain to be appointed Indian Commissioner.

Speaker Blaine expresses the opinion that the present session will not last over a month.

General Sherman's first order absorbing all the heads of bureaus of the War Department into his own General's staff, causes great commotion in the War Department. This greatly simplifies military operations and enables commanders of departments to control the operations of quartermasters and the other staff officers of their commands. The order also proposes economy.

California Appointments.

NEW YORK, March 10.—The appointment of Col. Hudson of Colusa, formerly of Grant's staff, as Marshal; Capt. H G Rollins as Register of the San Francisco Land Office, and of R B Franklin as Coiner of the Mint, are nearly certain.

Senators Stewart Carpenter and others are urging the removal of Surveyor Day and the appointment of C F. Wood, of Oakland. Cole and Sargent do not support the movement, but apparently share the dissatisfaction with the management of Day's office.

A general change of Mare Island appointees is probable. DeHoit expects reinstatement. Calvin Brown wants the Civil Engineer's place. The San Francisco Assessorship hangs apparently between Cole's nominee, Buckles, of Plumas, and Sargent's, Waite, of Sacramento. Cole urges Curtis for Collector, Sargent sustains Coey.

A Family Poisoned.

CHICAGO, March 10.—A man Jas. Finn, his wife and two children, were found locked up in their house yesterday. The three latter were dead, and they were already beginning to be decomposed. Finn, also, was in the agonies of death, and it is supposed that all were poisoned by arsenic, but by whom or for what reason, is a complete mystery.

Female Prize Fighters.

BOSTON, March 10.—A real prize fight between two women, according to the rules of the prize ring, except that hair pulling and biting were allowed, occurred at Romeville, Massachusetts, early Monday morning. The women were clad in garters, stockings and drawers. It was only until after the twenty first round that one of them begged her seconds in God's name to take her away.

Stearns' majority in the State of New Hampshire will probably be 4,000.

Murder in Iowa.

CHICAGO, March 9.—Dr. Christian Pershey, one of the most highly respected citizens of Muscatine, Iowa, was murdered to-day by a German named Mowry, with whom Pershey had some lawsuits. Public excitement is very great and threats are made to lynch Mowry.

From Mexico.

HAVANA, March 9.—Telegrams from the City of Mexico to the 3d, say that executions have become so frequent in the country as to create general public dismay. On the 1st of March Juarez forbade them and ordered the officers to bring the prisoners to the Capital for trial.

Gen. Negrettee has not been found. It is hinted that his defeat was not so complete as reported.

Romero writes to a friend that the opposition, after fomenting a rebellion, now clamor for a change in the ministry. Their motives are ignoble and the President heeds them not.

Escobeda has defeated the bandits in Tamaulipas. The rebel bands in other quarters have also been routed.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—A man named Morris Welsh was shot and instantly killed by a German named William Vollen, on Post street, in the Western Addition, early this morning. They were neighbors, and the quarrel arose out of a dispute of two years standing, in regard to the title to a portion of their premises. This morning, according to the statements of Welsh's wife, Welsh went upon Vollen's premises to speak to some men engaged in carting sand. Mrs. Vollen attacked him with a heavy stick, striking him a terrible blow on the head. Welsh wrested away the stick when Vollen rushed from the house with a revolver and fired three shots, the third one taking effect in the right side of Welsh, killing him instantly. Both Vollen and his wife have been arrested.

The slander suit of Dr. White vs. Rev. Dr. Cox for $25,000 has been disposed of by Judge Pratt, in the 12th District Court, on technical points.

The jury in the case of Thomas Savage, charged with the murder of Capt. Mitchell, brought in a verdict of guilty of manslaughter.

A man named Michael O'Hara, while washing windows in the California Theatre yesterday afternoon, fell 25 feet to the pavement. He will probably die.

Walter Marshall has instituted suit in the 15th District Court against Elizabeth Felton to recover $5,000 damages for slander.

Twenty feet of the deep sewer on Washington street, between Kearny and Dupont, caved in yesterday.

The Bank of California delared a dividend of 1 per cent., amounting to $5,000, payable on the 15th inst.

The Golden City sailed for Panama to-day with $109,118 85.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA CITY, March 10.—The Pacific Union Express took below, Tuesday evening, seven bars bullion, weighing 1,500 ounces and valued at $1 902 55. Wells, Fargo & Co. shipped ten bars weighing 793 pounds and valued at $20,808 90. Total for the day, $29,811 52.

The injunction suit between the Western Union and Pacific & Atlantic Telegraph Companies came on before Judge Rising to-day. A decision is looked for to-morrow.

The small pox has pretty much played out. No deaths or new cases reported here or at Silver City or Gold Hill.

The weather continues pleasant and warm, and business is improving.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

LONDON, March 9.—M Key, the Fenian, is not released as reported.

PRESSURE BETTER THAN HAMMERING FOR WELDING.—Recent experiments by French chemists have shown that continued steady hydraulic pressure in welding, causes complete union of two masses of iron, while the junction is only superficial when produced by the hammer. Among other experiments, two iron bars, 14 inches in diameter, were heated to welding point and brought under the hydraulic press. The welding was effected with extraordinary quickness, the fibers of the iron being thoroughly intercalated with each other, and the joined portion of the bars was quite as strong anywhere else, a microscopic section of the joint showing a perfectly homogeneous texture.

STATE ITEMS.

In parts of Wallamet valley, farmers, we hear, are beginning to want rain. Many are delaying their spring seeding, thinking it not best to hurry their seed into the ground. Experience, they say, has shown that nothing is gained by planting spring crops early.

From the Eugene Journal: We have been shown an invention by Hon. A. A. Smith, of this city, which we regard as of considerable importance. It is an improved harness. The thick sewing, loops and heavy buckle back of the hame, for putting on, and adjusting the length of the trace or tug, is dispensed with, and a sliding case with a key is supplied, which is neat, elegant, strong and safe.

The Superintendent of Common Schools in Linn county, publishes in the Albany papers some statistics concerning the district schools in that county. The amount of county funds distributed within the district for the year 1869, is coin $4,-704 51, currency, $2,757 98; total, $6,862 09. This amount is divided among 4,029 scholars, giving each scholar reported $1 70. The whole amount apportioned this year exceeds that of last year by $561 41. Thirteen districts did not report.

Speaking of the arrears of tax which Lane county must pay in consequence of the late decision of the U. S. Supreme Court, the Eugene Guard says: "It is thought by the County Commissioners that by levying the amount in two special taxes, one to be collected in 1869 and one in 1870, that the people would hardly feel its weight. The Supreme Court has decided against us, and we will have the tax of 1862 to pay in coin. If we are compelled to pay the amount due and interest, it will amount to about twelve thousand dollars."

W. P. Crow publishes the following in a Salem paper concerning Dr. McAfee: "Inasmuch as there has been so much said concerning the arrest of this man, I deem it necessary to make this explanation: I being a brother of his former wife, came in possession of facts which left not a shadow of doubt upon my mind as to his guilt. A part of these facts were from a letter she had written me at the time of their separation. After being thoroughly convinced, I proceeded at once to make out an affidavit and have a warrant issued for his arrest. In doing this I had not been influenced by any one, but acted on my own judgment."

THE TRANSITS OF VENUS.—Mr. Airy, the Astronomer Royal of England, is already preparing for the transit of Venus, which will occur in 1874. He suggests to the Astronomical Society, as one station from which to make the observations a point in the Antarctic Continent where Sir James Ross landed. This point, however is unapproachable at or about the time when the event will take place. those therefore who join the party, must make up their minds to stay there a year. Other points also recommended as stations are Mauritius and Madagascar. Another transit will occur in 1882.

Corresponding in violet ink is now the rage among young ladies and school girls.

ENTERPRISE TRIUMPHANT.—The OREGON DISPENSARY is establishing a reputation second to no house on the coast as a first class and Cheap Drug Store.

Our success has been so flattering that we have sent for another Apothecary. We have also secured the valuable services of Dr. J. A. CHAPMAN as Consulting Surgeon and Physician, thus giving evidence of our desire to afford the best of everything to our patrons for their liberal patronage.

LORYEA & KALLENBERG,
73 First street.

OPPOSITION LINE OF STEAMERS.—A private letter from San Francisco says that a strong and well regulated Steamship company was formed in that city for the purpose of running a line of steamers regularly between San Francisco and Portland. The steamers are known to be suitable for the Oregon trade, and are noted for good speed and splendid passenger accommodation. The people of Oregon will have an opportunity of showing whether they are willing to patronize good and staunch steamers, at a reasonable price for freight and passage, as it will depend on the patronage these steamers will receive whether they will remain in our waters or not.

While you think of opposition, remember that KOHN & FISHEL, No. 91 Front street, have the finest stock of Clothing and Dry Goods, and sell at very low prices.

FOR THROAT DISEASES and affections of the chest, "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Cough Lozenges, are of great value. In Coughs, Irritation of the Throat; caused by Cold or unusual exertion of the vocal organs, in speaking in public or singing, they produce the most beneficial results. The Troches have proved their efficacy.

HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.
